The four steps

| STEP               | IN PLAIN WORDS                                                                                            |
|--------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Hackles up? | Notice the prickle: too good, too fast, too secret, too scary. Say what is off.                           |
| Pause       | Nothing has to happen in five minutes. Money waits overnight.                                             |
| Check       | Use a door you opened: the official site you typed, the phone number on the college website or your card. |
| Tell        | A friend, a roommate, an office. A false alarm is fine. If you were fooled, it is never your fault.       |

Quick rules

- A real employer, landlord, office or bank will not ask for gift cards, crypto or a code they just texted you.
- Never read a login code to anyone who contacted you.
- Protect your email and phone number first. Turn on 2-step or a passkey.
- Voice or video of someone asking for money: hang up and call back on the number you already have.
- Threat about pictures? Stop. Save. Tell. Report. Do not pay. Do not forward images.
