01 What Hackles Day is (and is not)

Hackles Day is a reinforcement and celebration event, not the program itself. Research on youth internet-safety education suggests that one-off assemblies and single-exposure events are weak, while skills-based, repeated teaching is more promising (Finkelhor and colleagues, 2021 [VERIFY]). Hackles Day works because it comes after a semester of weekly lessons. Students practice what they already know, teach it to others, and show families what they can do.

Goals

1. Practice "Hackles up? Pause. Check. Tell." and the Help Ladder in a fun, low-pressure setting.
2. Celebrate students' skills and kindness.
3. Connect school and home with the Family Code Word, the Family Tech Agreement, and conversation starters.
4. Show older students as helpers and teachers (capstone teach-back).
5. Collect a little evidence (a short feedback form and optional pre/post "Quick Check").

Principles

- Unplugged-first. Every station works without devices or internet.
- No scare tactics. No graphic stories, frightening videos, or "what could happen to you" talks.
- No demonstrations of attacks. We teach recognition and response, not how to carry out harm.
- No shame. No student is singled out. Participation is always optional.
- Everyone can join. Stations are designed for different abilities, languages, and levels of access to devices.
- Safe adults on every station. Volunteers follow school policy for vetting and supervision. [VERIFY]
- A counselor is on site. Hackles Day may prompt a student to disclose.

Who it is for. All four bands: K-2, 3-5, 6-8, 9-12. Schools can run all bands in one building, or run a smaller version for a single band or classroom.

02 Planning timeline

WHEN	TASK	OWNER
8 weeks before	Choose date; get administrator approval; form a small team (coordinator, counselor, teacher leads, family liaison)	Coordinator
8 weeks before	Reserve space; decide format (half day, full day, or after-school); check policies on visitors and photos	Coordinator, administrator
6 weeks before	Recruit volunteers (parents, older students, staff, community partners); start background checks if required [VERIFY policy]	Volunteer lead
6 weeks before	Order or print supplies; copy puzzle hunt, passports, certificates	Teacher leads
5 weeks before	Send "Save the date" to families	Family liaison
4 weeks before	Confirm counselor coverage; confirm accessibility needs; translation of event materials	Counselor, family liaison
3 weeks before	Send the sensitive-topic pre-notice if any station touches a sensitive topic (see Counselor Toolkit)	Teachers
3 weeks before	Volunteer training session #1 (1 hour)	Volunteer lead, counselor
2 weeks before	Send family invitation with the Parent Night agenda and RSVP	Family liaison
2 weeks before	Student capstone teams prepare showcase pieces (grades 9-12 and 6-8)	Teachers
1 week before	Volunteer training session #2 (walk-through); set-up plan; final supply check	Coordinator
1 week before	Confirm photo permission list; prepare "no photo" markers for students	Teachers
Day before	Set up stations; test signage; walk the accessibility route	Team
Event day	Run the event; counselor on call; debrief at end	All
1 week after	Send thank-yous and feedback forms; share photos only with permitted families	Coordinator
2 weeks after	Debrief meeting; update plan for next year	Team

03 Event formats and sample schedule

OPTION A: HALF-DAY ROTATION (RECOMMENDED FOR A WHOLE SCHOOL)

TIME	ACTIVITY
8:30	Opening gathering: welcome, the Hackles pledge (below), "Hackles up? Pause. Check. Tell." chant
8:45	K-2 and 3-5 rotate through stations (20 minutes each, 3 stations); 6-8 and 9-12 hold the Puzzle Hunt and capstone prep
10:00	Break and snack (check allergies)
10:20	6-8 and 9-12 rotate through stations; K-2 and 3-5 do the Puzzle Hunt and Hackles Showcase
11:30	Capstone Showcase for the school (9-12 teach-back to younger buddies)
12:00	Closing circle, certificates, "Tell Someone" pledge wall, dismissal

OPTION B: SINGLE-BAND EVENT (ONE GRADE BAND, 90 MINUTES)

TIME	ACTIVITY
0:00	Welcome and pledge
0:10	Stations (3 x 20 minutes)
1:10	Puzzle Hunt finale
1:25	Certificates and closing

OPTION C: CLASSROOM MINI-HACKLES DAY (45 MINUTES, NO VOLUNTEERS)

CHOOSE TWO STATIONS, PLAY the Puzzle Hunt in teams, and finish with a certificate and the pledge.

PARENT AND FAMILY NIGHT (EVENING, 75 MINUTES)

See Section 8. It can follow the school day or run on a separate evening.

THE HACKLES PLEDGE (READ ALOUD; EDIT AS YOU LIKE)

"We are Hackles kids. We Pause. We Check. We Tell. We are kind online. We help our friends. And we know that telling a trusted adult is never getting in trouble."

"HACKLES UP? PAUSE. CHECK. TELL." CHANT (WITH MOTIONS)

- Pause: hold up a hand (stop).
- Check: make a magnifying glass with the hand.
- Tell: cup hands around mouth and point to a trusted adult.

04 Stations by grade band

EACH STATION LISTS THE time, group size, materials, steps, key message, accessibility, and the "if a student discloses" note. Stations are designed to work with 6 to 10 children at a time, and with one adult and, where possible, one helper.

For every station

- Disclosure note: If a student says something that worries you, stay calm, thank them, and follow the Disclosure and Incident Guide. Radio or send a runner for the counselor. Do not promise secrecy.
- No student is required to share a personal experience.
- Everyone gets a stamp. Stamps go in the Passport (see Section 12).

ALL BANDS: HACKLES HUNT STATION (10 TO 15 MINUTES; ADAPT BY AGE)

- Materials: a "Hackles Up" sign and a "Hackles Down" sign; scenario cards written for the band (K-2: large pictures such as a pop-up prize, a stranger asking for a picture, a kind message from a grandparent; 3-5: short game-chat and message cards; 6-12: realistic message, DM and request cards, no real names or real accounts); a "Hackles Up" hand-signal poster (hand raised and brushed up the back of the neck).
- Steps: (1) Show a card. (2) Children walk to the Hackles Up or Hackles Down sign, or show the hand signal, and say what made them feel "uh-oh" (too good, pushy, secret, scary) or why it felt fine. (3) For Hackles Up cards, the group does the rest of the habit together: Pause, Check (who is it from, what do they want), Tell. (4) Include at least one safe card so children learn that a calm feeling is fine too.
- Key message: "Trust your hackles. A false alarm is fine. If you missed it or got tricked, it is never your fault. Tell someone."
- Accessibility: Children may point or use the signal instead of speaking. Never ask a child to share a personal experience.
- Stamp: a spiky "uh-oh" star in the Passport.

K-2 STATIONS (AGES 5-7): "HACKLES: K-2 (AGES 5-7)"

K-2 Station 1: Tell-Someone Team (10 to 12 minutes)

- Materials: large cutouts or pictures of trusted adults (teacher, counselor, family helper, coach); sticky dots; a poster with a big speech bubble reading "I need help."
- Steps: (1) Children place dots on the pictures of grown-ups they could tell. (2) The helper models the line "I need help." (3) Each child says it once in a loud voice and once in a whisper. (4) Children shake hands or high-five the volunteer.

- Key message: "Telling is never trouble."
- Accessibility: Children may point instead of speaking. Add a picture symbol of "help."

K-2 Station 2: Secret Password Silly Words (10 minutes)

- Materials: three bags of picture cards (animals, foods, actions); a poster with a lock.
- Steps: (1) Each child draws one card from each bag and makes a silly three-word password, such as "dancing purple pickle." (2) Children say it aloud once, then whisper it, then place it in their "lock" (pocket of a paper lock) and keep it secret. (3) Remind: only share with a grown-up who helps you.
- Note: Children should not use their real passwords. This is a pretend practice.
- Key message: "Passwords are private."

K-2 Station 3: Pause and Ask Pop-Ups (10 minutes)

- Materials: large paper "pop-ups" showing prizes ("You won!"), pretend free offers, a "Stop sign" paddle for each child.
- Steps: (1) The helper holds up a pop-up. (2) Children hold up the Stop paddle and call "Pause and ask." (3) The helper then holds up a grown-up cutout, and children say, "I'll ask."
- Key message: "Pause and ask a grown-up."

K-2 Station 4: The Oops Button (10 minutes)

- Materials: a large red paper "Oops button" and a floor ladder with three steps (Stop, Tell, It's okay).
- Steps: (1) Children are told a pretend story about clicking something yucky by accident. (2) Each child presses the Oops button, steps on the ladder, and says "I'll tell." (3) The helper says "Thank you for telling. You are not in trouble."
- Key message: "Oops happens. Tell, no trouble."

K-2 Station 5: Real or Pretend? (10 minutes)

- Materials: pairs of pictures: a real photograph and a drawing or a picture made to look unusual (use safe, teacher-made images, never images of real children); "Real" and "Pretend" signs.
- Steps: (1) Children vote by walking to a sign. (2) The helper explains that some pictures and voices can be made-up by computers. (3) "If you're not sure, ask a grown-up."

K-2 Station 6: Kind Clicks Wall (10 minutes)

- Materials: paper hearts, crayons, tape.
- Steps: Children draw or dictate a kind message, and hang it on the wall.

GRADES 3-5 STATIONS (AGES 8-10): "HANDS-ON HACKERS (THE GOOD KIND)"3-5 Station 1: Passphrase Crack Timer (15 minutes)

- Materials: index cards with fake passwords in several lengths; a "crack timer" chart (pre-made from the lesson: how long guessing takes for 4 characters, 8, 12, and a passphrase); stopwatch.
- Steps: (1) Students draw a card. (2) They find its length on the chart and read the time. (3) Teams build the strongest passphrase from random-word cards. (4) Discuss why long and random beats clever.
- Note: These are fake examples. Do not use real passwords.
- Key message: "Length beats cleverness."

3-5 Station 2: Secret Code Lab (15 minutes)

- Materials: cipher wheels (a paper wheel with the alphabet), message strips, pencils.
- Steps: (1) Students set the wheel to a shift of 3. (2) They encode a short friendly message. (3) They swap with a partner and decode it. (4) Talk about how encryption hides messages so only the right people read them.
- Key message: "Encryption keeps messages private."

3-5 Station 3: Scam Spotters Sort (15 minutes)

- Materials: 12 message cards (6 real: school notice, family message, store receipt; 6 scam: fake prize, "your account is locked," "send a gift card," "don't tell anyone"); two bins labeled "Real" and "Scam or Pause."
- Steps: (1) Teams sort cards. (2) For each scam, they circle the clue: urgency, secrecy, prize, asks for a password. (3) They state what they would do: notice their hackles, then Pause, Check, Tell.
- Key message: "Urgent and secret? Pause."

3-5 Station 4: Data Detective (15 minutes)

- Materials: a fake profile card for "Alex, age 10" with small clues (a school mascot, a bus number, a pet's name, a favorite park) written on separate slips.
- Steps: (1) Teams get one clue at a time. (2) They combine clues to see how much they can piece together about "Alex" (not real). (3) They discuss which details to keep private.
- Key message: "Small details add up."

3-5 Station 5: Help Ladder Role-Play (15 minutes)

- Materials: scenario cards (a stranger asks for a secret; a friend is being excluded in a group chat; a pop-up shows something yucky); a floor ladder with three rungs: Friend, Trusted Adult, Report.
- Steps: (1) Trios role-play one scenario, with a "teller," a "listener," and an "observer." (2) The listener says "Thank you for telling me. It is not your fault." (3) Rotate roles.
- Key message: "Climb the ladder until someone helps."

3-5 Station 6: Family Code Word Practice (10 minutes)

- Materials: the Family Code Word guide (from the Family Engagement Pack); index cards.
- Steps: Students practice asking, "What is our code word?" and the callback rule. They write ideas for a family code word (not the real one) to take home.

GRADES 6-8 STATIONS (AGES 11-13): "CASE FILES"6-8 Station 1: Help Ladder Practice (15 minutes)

- Materials: disclosure scenario cards (fictional), starter sentence strips ("Something happened online and I need help"), a trusted-adult map poster.
- Steps: (1) Pairs practice saying a starter sentence to a "listener." (2) The listener practices responding with "Thank you for telling me. It's not your fault." (3) Switch roles.
- Key message: "Saying the first sentence is the hardest part. Practice makes it easier."

6-8 Station 2: Account Defense Check (15 minutes)

- Materials: a paper "account dashboard" for a fictional user; a checklist: unique password, two-step verification, recovery email current, unknown logins.
- Steps: Teams audit the fictional account and mark what's missing. Then each student writes one action for their own accounts at home.

6-8 Station 3: Phish Lab (Defense Only) (15 minutes)

- Materials: printed fictional DMs and emails, some real and some deceptive; highlighters.
- Steps: Teams highlight clues (urgency, link mismatches, requests for codes or passwords). They decide: report, block, or ask an adult. Do not teach how to build such messages.

6-8 Station 4: Grooming Pattern Cards (15 minutes)

- Materials: a short fictional chat (see Puzzle Hunt, Clue Set B) split into stages: trust, gifts, secrecy, isolation; sorting labels.
- Steps: Teams place chat excerpts in order and identify the pattern. Then they discuss: what could a friend do? Key message: "The pattern is the clue, not the person's age."
- Note: Station follows the sensitive-topic procedures. Send the pre-notice and keep the counselor close.

6-8 Station 5: STOP, SAVE, TELL, REPORT Drill (15 minutes)

- Materials: four large floor cards (STOP, SAVE, TELL, REPORT), scenario cards.
- Steps: Students stand on the card that matches the first action for each scenario and say what they would do, using no-blame language. Emphasize: do not view or forward images; evidence is the account name and messages. Name trusted adults and helplines. [VERIFY numbers]

6-8 Station 6: Fake or Real? Verification (15 minutes)

- Materials: pairs of safe cards (a teacher-made headline, a screenshot of a fictional post, a labeled AI-created cartoon image); verification clue cards (source, date, other reports, reverse image search idea).
- Steps: Teams decide what they can verify and what they cannot, and practice saying "I'm not sure. I won't share."

6-8 Station 7: Chatbots and AI Companions (10 minutes)

- Materials: statement cards ("A chatbot always tells the truth," "A chatbot can keep a secret," "A chatbot can't replace a trusted person").
- Steps: Students move to "Agree," "Disagree," or "It depends," then discuss. Key message: AI can help with some things, but serious worries go to a trusted human.

GRADES 9-12 STATIONS (AGES 14-18): "YOUR DIGITAL DEFENSE PLAN"

9-12 Station 1: Threat-Model Yourself (20 minutes)

- Materials: worksheet with three columns: Assets (accounts, photos, location), Risks, Protections; sticky notes.
- Steps: Students list assets and rank them. They name one risk and one protection for each. They keep their sheet private.

9-12 Station 2: Passkeys and Password Managers (15 minutes)

- Materials: printed explainer cards; a "match the protection to the risk" card game.

- Steps: Students match actions with the risk they address (reuse, takeover, phishing, shared devices).

9-12 Station 3: Social Engineering Case Lab (Defense Only) (20 minutes)

- Materials: fictional case files describing a manipulation pattern (urgency, authority, rapport, secrecy).
- Steps: Teams name the manipulation tactic used and the defense. They propose a "pause script" to use in similar situations. No station may teach how to run a manipulation.

9-12 Station 4: Sextortion and Image Abuse Response (20 minutes)

- Materials: a one-page response card (STOP, SAVE, TELL, REPORT with help resources [VERIFY]); fictional scenarios; a trusted-adult map.
- Steps: Students practice how to support a friend and how to seek help, using no-blame language. Emphasize that images are never to be viewed, forwarded, or copied by students, or by adults other than those your school policy and law enforcement direct. Federal law treats knowing possession of such images as a serious crime, and state law varies. [VERIFIED 2026-10-05: 18 U.S.C. 2252A, law.cornell.edu; confirm state law with district counsel]
- Note: A counselor or trained staff member must lead this station. Pre-notice required.

9-12 Station 5: Synthetic Media and Truth (15 minutes)

- Materials: cards with sources and claims; a provenance flowchart.
- Steps: Teams walk a claim through the verification flowchart. They decide what to share, hold, or verify.

9-12 Station 6: Be the Helper (20 minutes)

- Materials: friend-in-crisis scenario cards; a "what I can do and what an adult must do" chart.
- Steps: Students role-play listening, not promising secrecy about danger, and connecting a friend to an adult. They practice boundaries and self-care.

9-12 Station 7: Ethics and Careers in Security (15 minutes)

- Materials: career cards; links to free, legal skill-building resources (such as capture-the-flag sites and security club programs) [VERIFY current sites]; an "ethical or not?" dilemma set.
- Steps: Students sort dilemmas (permission, disclosure, legality), and explore legal career pathways.

05 The Puzzle Hunt (with answer keys)

Overview. Teams of 3 to 5 students visit clue stations around the room or building. Each solved clue yields a word (or a letter). When all clues are solved, the team assembles a final message. The hunt is cooperative. Every team that finishes gets a prize ribbon, and no team is ranked below another.

HUNT A: "ALWAYS TELL" (GRADES 3-8; WORKS FOR 9-12 AS A WARM-UP)

Each clue's answer starts with a letter. The first letters, in clue order, spell ALWAYS TELL.

CLUE	PUZZLE	ANSWER	LETTER
1	Decode the shift cipher (move each letter back 3 places): DGXOW	ADULT	A
2	Riddle: "I keep nosy people out of your screen. I use a number or a pattern. I have four letters."	LOCK	L
3	Check-step question: "When you see something online, ask: ____ made this, and why?" (three letters)	WHO	W
4	Unscramble: PPA (a program on your phone)	APP	A
5	Fill in the blank: "If someone scares you online, it is never ____ fault."	YOUR	Y
6	Odd one out: Four messages: a school reminder, a note from a grandparent, a friend's birthday invitation, and "You WON a free phone! Send a gift card to claim it!" What is the last one? (four letters)	SCAM	S
7	Complete the habit: Hackles up? Pause, Check, ____	TELL	T
8	Missing letters: "Turning a message into a secret code is called E N _ R Y P T" (the missing letter is C; the full word is the answer)	ENCRYPT	E
9	Fill in the blank: "Do not click an unknown ____." (four letters)	LINK	L
10	Complete: "The Tell-Someone ____ has rungs: friend, trusted adult, report." (six letters)	LADDER	L

Final message (teams read the first letters): ALWAYS TELL. Then the team stands and says: "Always tell a trusted adult. You are never in trouble."

Station set-up. Print each clue on a card and place the clues at ten spots. Give each team a clue sheet and a pencil. Number the clues so teams can go in any order. Post the shift-cipher wheel at Clue 1.

HUNT B: "CASE FILE" (GRADES 6-12)

Scenario packet. Each team receives a fictional case file with four short documents. The names and places are fictional. Teams answer questions about the patterns and the best responses. No sexual content or graphic detail is used.

Document 1: A fictional chat (shortened)

FIELD NOTE	No. 1
Mira (age 12) and "Jay" (says he is 13), in a game chat

Jay: nice build! u r really good
Mira: thanks!
Jay: want some free gems? i have extra
Mira: sure
Jay: sent. we should talk on another app tho, this chat is laggy
Mira: ok, which one?
Jay: the private one. dont tell your parents, they wont get it
Mira: ok
Jay: ur so mature for your age. most ppl ur age r boring. u can trust me
Jay: can u send a pic so i know ur real?

Questions for the team

1. Circle the moments that are warning signs. (Key: free gifts; move to a private app; "don't tell your parents"; flattery that makes Mira feel special; request for a picture.)
2. Sort the warning signs into stages: Trust and flattery, Gifts, Move to private, Secrecy, Request. (Key: Trust and flattery: "nice build," "so mature"; Gifts: "free gems"; Move to private: "another app"; Secrecy: "don't tell your parents"; Request: "send a pic.")
3. What could Mira do next? (Key: Pause, don't send anything, save the chat (text), block, tell a trusted adult, report on the game.)
4. What should Mira's friend say if Mira tells them? (Key: "Thank you for telling me. It's not your fault. Let's tell a trusted adult.")
5. Complete the sentence: "The pattern is the clue, not the person's _____.
(Key: age or name.)

Document 2: Account takeover timeline (fictional). A timeline of a fictional student's account: reused password, a link from a "friend," a login from an unfamiliar device, messages sent to contacts. Teams mark where the account could have been protected, and what the student should do now. (Key: unique passwords, two-step verification, check links with the sender in another way, change password, log out other devices, tell friends and an adult.)

Document 3: Fake or real? Three fictional social posts with provenance clues. Teams decide what they can verify and what they should not share. (Key: unknown source and no corroboration means do not share; it's fine to say "I'm not sure.")

Document 4: Friend in trouble. A fictional text from a friend: "Someone has a picture of me and says they'll send it to everyone unless I pay. Please don't tell." Teams write a reply and a plan. (Key: reply with empathy; "It's not your fault"; do not pay; save account name and messages; tell a trusted adult) together; report; do not view or forward any image; encourage using a helpline.) The counselor reviews this document before use. [Pre-notice and counselor presence needed.]

Final team task: Each team writes a "Help Card" on a sticky note: "If this happens, I will ____." Place it on the Tell Someone Wall.

HUNT C: "HACKLES STOPS" (GRADES K-2)

A simple picture trail of six stops. At each stop, children do an action and get a stamp.

1. Tell team: point to a trusted grown-up. Stamp: a heart.
2. Lock it: whisper a silly password. Stamp: a lock.
3. Pause sign: hold up the stop paddle. Stamp: a hand.
4. Oops button: press and say "I'll tell." Stamp: a button.
5. Real or pretend: vote. Stamp: a star.
6. Kind click: say something kind. Stamp: a smile.

When all six stamps are on the Passport, children get a Hackles Sticker.

TIPS FOR RUNNING THE HUNT

- Give younger teams a helper.
- Include an "ask a volunteer for a hint" option. Hints are not penalized.
- Provide audio or read-aloud support for clues. Provide large print on request.
- Offer a "quiet team" option for students who prefer less noise.
- Keep the scenarios fictional and age-appropriate.

06 Capstone showcase

Who. Grades 9-12 (Capstone lesson: "My Defense Plan"), with a smaller version for grades 6-8 ("My Case File Pledge") and a "Hackles Showcase" for grades 3-5. K-2 take part as visitors and "buddy learners."

What students show

BAND	PRODUCT	AUDIENCE
9-12	Personal Defense Plan (private) and a peer teach-back of one skill (public)	Younger buddies, families, school community
6-8	A skill poster or short skit: Help Ladder, STOP SAVE TELL REPORT, or Upstander Moves	Peers and families
3-5	A Hackles Showcase: a Help Ladder demonstration, a poster, or a cipher message	K-2 buddies and families
K-2	A "My Tell Team" drawing; a class chant	Families

Important: privacy. The 9-12 Defense Plan is personal and private.

Students teach a general skill, not their own plan, and are never required to share personal experiences or accounts.

Teach-back guidelines for older students

- Pick one skill (for example, how to spot a scam, how to make a passphrase, or how to tell a trusted adult).
- Use plain language and a hands-on activity.
- Never show or ask for real passwords or personal photos.
- No scary stories. No graphic detail.
- Practice with your teacher first, then teach in pairs.
- If a younger child tells you something that worries you, say "Thank you for telling me," and walk them to the adult in charge right away.

Showcase formats

- Gallery walk: posters and projects around the room; visitors stamp their Passport.
- Mini-stage: 3-minute skits and demonstrations.
- Teach-back stations: older students run a station for younger buddies.

Non-competitive judging (optional "Hackles Spotlight")

Instead of a ranking, give feedback with the Spotlight card for each project: one thing that is clear, one thing that is creative, one thing I will remember. Every project receives a Spotlight card.

Capstone checklist for teachers

- ☐ Each student completes a Defense Plan (private).
- ☐ Each student prepares a short teach-back.
- ☐ Teams rehearse once.
- ☐ Teams are assigned buddies or station slots.
- ☐ Materials contain no real passwords, no personal photos, and no private information.
- ☐ The counselor knows which topics are included.

07 Volunteer roles and training

Why volunteers matter. Hackles Day runs best with one adult per station and one helper where possible. Volunteers can be parents and caregivers, older students, school staff, and community partners.

ROLES

ROLE	DUTIES	NUMBER NEEDED (SUGGESTED)
Event coordinator	Plans the day, manages schedule, communicates with administrator, makes day-of decisions	1
Counselor on call	Available throughout; leads sensitive stations; receives referrals; supports students who are upset	1 or more; backup named
Station lead	Runs a station using the station card; keeps time; follows safety rules	1 per station
Station helper	Supports the lead, helps children, manages materials	1 per station
Puzzle Hunt captain	Sets up clues, helps teams, checks answers	1 to 2
Greeter and registration	Welcomes visitors, hands out Passports, checks the sign-in list and guest badges	2
Runner	Carries messages, fetches the counselor, restocks supplies	2
First aid and safety lead	Handles first aid, allergies, and building safety, according to school procedures	1
Accessibility and language lead	Helps with wheelchair access, interpreter, quiet space, and sensory needs	1
Family liaison	Prepares family materials; hosts the Parent Night table; collects Family Reply slips	1 to 2
Photographer	Takes photos only of permitted students, follows the photo list	1
Setup and cleanup crew	Sets up and clears the space	4 to 6
Older student ambassadors (grades 9-12)	Guide younger students, teach back skills, model "Hackles up? Pause. Check. Tell."	As many as available, supervised

VOLUNTEER RULES (PRINT AND GIVE TO EVERY VOLUNTEER)

1. Check in at the welcome table and wear your badge.
2. Follow the school's volunteer and visitor policy. [VERIFY: background checks and sign-in requirements]
3. Never be alone with a child. Stay in sight of other adults.
4. Do not take photos on personal phones unless the policy permits it.
5. Do not share scary stories, graphic details, or personal experiences about crime or harm.
6. Do not ask children about their families, devices, or accounts.
7. Do not collect personal information (names, phone numbers, addresses) from students.
8. Be warm, patient, and encouraging. Use "Thank you for telling me" and "It is not your fault."
9. If a child tells you something worrying: stay calm, thank them, do not promise secrecy, do not ask detailed questions, and take them (with another adult in sight) to the counselor or event coordinator right away. Write down what you were told as soon as you can. The counselor will follow the Disclosure and Incident Guide.
10. Do not give advice about discipline, legal matters, or family decisions.
11. Ask for help when you are unsure.

Tone and content rules for the talk

- Warm, hopeful, practical. Do not start with fear or alarming stories.
- Recognition and response only. Do not describe methods used by offenders.
- If quoting statistics, use current figures from primary sources (NCMEC, FBI, Pew, Common Sense) and mark them as approximate.
- Avoid blaming parents or children.
- Include an invitation to the school counselor and to the helplines. [VERIFY numbers]
- Make clear that no family is required to share anything personal.

Materials for family tables

- Family Engagement Pack pages: Family Tech Agreement, Code Word guide, conversation starters, glossary, "What to do if your child tells you something scary."
- Pens, index cards, a sample code word board.
- Family Reply slips and a collection box.
- A sign-in sheet (use first names or initials only, if required by policy).

If a student was absent or opted out, offer a "Hackles Day Helper" certificate for helping in other ways, or give a participation card that does not draw attention.

10 Safety, disclosure, and guest-speaker rules

DISCLOSURE AT HACKLES DAY

- Hackles Day can prompt students to share. A counselor is on site for the whole event and is visible. Post a "Counselor Corner" sign with a quiet space. Provide a card with the counselor's name and photo.
- Any adult who hears a worrying statement follows the Volunteer Rules: calm, thank, do not promise secrecy, do not question, take the child to the counselor with another adult in sight, and write down the child's words.
- Staff follow the Disclosure and Incident Guide, including personal reporting duties. [Confirm policy and state law with district counsel]

GUEST SPEAKERS (INCLUDING LAW ENFORCEMENT, NONPROFITS, AND INDUSTRY)

- Vet speakers with your administrator before inviting them. Use only people and organizations you trust. [VERIFY your district's policy]
- Share the Hackles Day principles in writing: no scare tactics, no graphic stories or images, no shaming, no demonstrations of how to attack systems or people, and no sharing of real student information.
- Review talk outlines and slides in advance. Ask for a skills-based message that fits the grade band.
- Ensure a school staff member is always present.
- Avoid one-time assemblies that stand alone. If a speaker is invited, pair the talk with a classroom follow-up from the weekly lessons.
- Make sure speakers know how to refer disclosures to the counselor.

PHOTOS AND MEDIA

- Use only photos of students whose families have given permission. [VERIFY policy]
- Give students who do not have permission a wristband or sticker and tell photographers.
- Do not post photos with names. Do not post children's work that includes personal information.
- Never photograph students at the counselor corner.

PHYSICAL SAFETY AND ACCESSIBILITY

- Check allergies before any food.
- Keep exits clear. Post a map.
- Provide step-free routes and a quiet space for students who are overwhelmed.

- Have a plan for weather, fire drills, and emergencies. Know your school's emergency procedures.
- Keep a list of staff phone numbers.

TECHNOLOGY

- Stations are unplugged. If any station uses devices (for example, a slideshow), do not connect to student accounts and do not collect data.
- Do not ask students to demonstrate on their real accounts or devices.
