An outline for eight posters (11 by 17 inches or letter size) for residence halls, student centers, libraries, computer labs, restrooms and commuter lounges. Text is draft and ready for a designer. Print posters unaltered from the Hackles design system when you use the name or art [see the license notice]. If you design your own posters without the Hackles name or art, the text may be adapted under CC BY-NC 4.0 with credit.

FIELD NOTE	No. 1
Design notes. High contrast, sans-serif type of at least 28 point for the main line, plain language, one idea per poster. Use the Hackle mascot only as a small corner icon, as in the other adult-facing materials. Add a QR code only to the college's own resource page [LOCAL], never to a product. Every poster carries a local contact line and the line "No names collected. No judgment."

1	Hackles up? Pause. Check. Tell.	"Too good, too fast, too secret, too scary? Wait five minutes. Check a door you opened. Tell someone. A false alarm is fine."	[COLLEGE NAME] · [DEAN OF STUDENTS PHONE]	Everywhere
2	Real offices do not ask for gift cards.	"Financial aid, the bursar, housing and employers do not demand gift cards, crypto or a code they just texted you. Call the number on the college website."	[FINANCIAL AID OFFICE PHONE]	Financial aid lobby, student center
3	Never read a code to anyone who contacted you.	"That six-digit code is the key to your account. Banks, offices and friends in a hurry do not need it."	[IT HELP DESK]	Computer labs, library
4	Your email is the master key.	"Turn on 2-step or a passkey on your email and your phone carrier first. Use a password manager. It takes ten minutes."	[IT HELP DESK] Walk-in hours	Labs, residence halls
5	Is it real? Call back on the number you already have.	"Voice or video asking for money? Hang up. Call back on a saved number. Set a code word with family."	none	Student center, commuter lounge

6	Someone is using a picture against you? It is not your fault.	"Stop. Save. Tell. Report. Do not pay. StopNCII.org is for adults. Take It Down is for images made under 18." (add) "CyberTipline: report.cybertip.org"	[COUNSELING CENTER] · [TITLE IX OFFICE]	Restrooms, residence halls, health center
7	Sharing is a choice. Control is not love.	"A partner who demands your passcode or your location all the time is a warning sign. You can say no. Help is here." (add) "loveisrespect: 1-866-331-9474, text LOVEIS to 22522 [VERIFY]"	[COUNSELING CENTER] · [CAMPUS POLICE]	Restrooms, residence halls
8	Check in. Interrupt. Get help. Follow up.	"See someone struggling or targeted online? Message them privately, say something short, bring in help, and check in next week. Do not repost."	[DEAN OF STUDENTS]	Residence halls, student center

Placement and rotation

- Post two or three at a time and swap every few weeks so people keep looking.
- Put the numbers on tear-off tabs in restrooms and quiet corners (a way to take the contact without being seen).
- Make a digital version for the learning-system homepage and campus screens.
- Keep an accessible text version of the whole set on the college website [LOCAL].

Review before printing

- ☐ Every phone number and URL is verified and local lines are filled in. [VERIFY]
- ☐ The poster shows only resources the college has confirmed. [COUNSEL TO CONFIRM]
- ☐ Spanish and other languages by qualified translators and reviewed by speakers of the language.
- ☐ A student advisory group looked at the wording.
- ☐ Color contrast and font sizes checked.
