How to use this file

- Try this now (5 minutes): print H3 and H7 first and fill in H7 with the counselor. If you print nothing else, those two cards carry the day.
- Print one copy of the Print Plan (below) and tape it to your supply box.
- Cards are written as quoted boxes. Print, then cut along each box. Print card sets on colored paper so sets never mix (suggested colors in the Print Plan).
- Everything in the card sets is fictional. No real brands, real people, real schools or real accounts appear. Names like "Zorbly" and "GemCoins" are made up on purpose.
- Anything marked [VERIFY] must be checked against your own state law, district policy and current official sources before you print.
- Fill in the blanks on H7 (My School's Help Map) before the workshop. A card with blanks is a card nobody can use at 2 p.m. on a bad day.

H2. Group Agreements Poster and Team Scorecard

GROUP AGREEMENTS (POST ON THE WALL; READ ALOUD AT THE START)

FIELD NOTE	No. 1
OUR HACKLES AGREEMENTS
1. We work with fictional cases, not real children. No names, no "a student I had once," no guessing who a case is about.
2. Pass is always allowed. Say "pass" or hold up the green card. No explanation needed.
3. Step out any time. Some of this material can touch real life. Leave, stretch, get water, find the counselor. Nobody asks why. We will check on you kindly later.
4. No shame, no gotchas. Every question is welcome. Every mistake is practice.
5. What we share about ourselves stays here. The one exception: if a child may be in danger or being hurt, we get help, and the law and our policy decide how.
6. We have fun on purpose. Laughter is a teaching tool. We laugh with, not at.
7. We keep our phones in our pockets. Texting is for the break.

TEAM SCORECARD (ONE PER TEAM)

Team name: _____ (pick something silly: The Hackle Hecklers, Pause Palm Pirates, The Gut Checks)

SEGMENT	POINTS POSSIBLE	OUR POINTS
Gut-Check Line-Up (team agreement bonus)	5
Fake Phish Derby (cards: 12 cards x 3 points; 8 cards = 24 in the 90-Minute Version)	36
Fake Phish Derby (bonus questions)	10
Station Passport stamps (4 stations x 3 points)	12
Say-It-Right Relay	20
Micro-Teach (peer vote for "Most Fun AND Safe")	5
Total

Disclosure role-play earns no points. It is practice, not a game.

Team rules: each person must be the card-reader at least once; no phones; the facilitator's decision is final and may be bribed only with puns.

H3. Pause-Check-Tell and Hackles-Up Card

PRINT FRONT AND BACK on goldenrod card stock. Cut to wallet size. Also enlarge to poster size.

FRONT

FIELD NOTE	No. 2
HACKLES UP? Something feels off: too good, pushy, secret, or scary. Hand signal: raise a hand and brush it up the back of your neck. PAUSE: Stop. Breathe. Do not click, reply, pay, or send yet. (Flat palm like a stop sign.) CHECK: Who is it really? What do they want? How fast? Check a different way than the message tells you to. (Circle fingers like a magnifying glass at your eye.) TELL: A trusted person, every time, no shame. Keep telling until someone helps. (Hand on chest, then open palm outward.)

BACK

FIELD NOTE	No. 3
A FALSE ALARM IS FINE. Noticing is the skill. Nobody gets points for being right every time. IF YOU MISSED IT OR GOT TRICKED, IT IS NEVER YOUR FAULT. Tell someone. WHEN A CHILD TELLS YOU: "Thank you for telling me. This is not your fault. You are not in trouble." THREE THINGS TO NEVER DO: promise secrecy, ask "why did you...?", look at or forward an intimate image. Trust your hackles. Pause · Check · Tell.

H4. SPOT and FLAGS Quick Reference Card

SPOT is used in grades 3-5. FLAGS is used in grades 6-8. Teens and adults use the Pause-Check-Tell decision habit. All three describe the same signals.

SIGNAL	SPOT (GRADES 3-5)	FLAGS (GRADES 6-8)	IN ADULT WORDS
Secrecy or asking for private things	S ecrets asked	L ogin ask, G otta keep it secret	Wants a password, code, address, picture, or says "don't tell"
Pressure	P ressure	F ast	Deadline, threat, "last chance"
Too good	O ffer too good	A mazing offer	Free money, prize, special deal, flattery
Moves you somewhere	T rick to move you	S trange sender	Click this, move to another app, buy gift cards, unfamiliar or lookalike sender

Rule of thumb: one signal means Pause and check. Two or more means probably a trick.

How to Check safely (the "own door" rule): do not use the link, number or contact in the message. Open the app or site yourself, call a number you already had, or ask the person face to face.

If you already clicked: that is an oops, not a disaster. Stop, tell someone, and change the password from a safe device (and anywhere else you used it). If you typed in a card number, call your bank on the number printed on the card. Turn on two-step verification. Oops Recovery is a lesson in grades 3-5 because everyone needs it.

H5. Say This, Not That Card

SAY THIS	NOT THAT	WHY
"Thank you for telling me."	"Why did you do that?"	"Why" sounds like blame. Thanking makes the next telling easier.
"This is not your fault."	"You should have known better."	Shame is the biggest reason kids stay silent.
"You are not in trouble."	"I'm going to have to take your phone."	Fear of losing a device stops kids from telling.
"I can't keep this secret, because I want to get you help. I will tell you who I tell."	"I won't tell anyone."	You cannot promise secrecy. Honesty builds trust.
"Tell me more." / "What happened next?"	Detailed who, what, why questioning	Open questions only. Investigators investigate.
"Good gut check. Hackles up is never wrong to say."	"That's nothing, don't worry."	Praise the noticing, including false alarms.
"Keep telling until someone helps."	"Just tell your teacher."	One adult may not help. We teach persistence.
"A grown-up you trust."	"Your parents."	Not every child has parents at home.
"That sounds like a trick, and these tricks fool everyone."	"Only careless kids fall for that."	Anyone can be tricked.
"I'm not sure. Let's find out."	Guessing	Honest uncertainty models Check.

H6. First 10 Minutes Card (disclosure)

A short version of the First 10 Minutes card in the Disclosure and Incident Guide (Teacher Support Pack, Document 3). Your district policy and state law come first. [VERIFY]

DO	DO NOT
Stay calm. Soften your voice. Keep your face neutral.	Show shock, disgust, anger or panic.
Move somewhere private that is still visible to other adults.	Be alone behind a closed door with a child.
Say: "Thank you for telling me. This is not your fault. You are not in trouble."	Say: "Why did you...?" "How could you...?"
Listen. Use open prompts: "Tell me more."	Ask leading questions or press for detail.
Be honest: "I can't keep this a secret. I will tell you who I tell."	Promise secrecy or promise outcomes.
Write down the child's exact words afterward.	Investigate, confront anyone, or contact the person involved.
Report personally and promptly as law and policy require.	Assume telling the principal satisfies your duty. [VERIFY]
If a device holds images: do not look, copy, forward or screenshot. Secure it per policy.	Ask to see the images.
If the child may harm themselves: stay with them, call the counselor or administrator, follow your crisis protocol, 988 [VERIFIED 2026-10-05: 988lifeline.org].	Leave a child at risk alone.

In front of the class? "Thank you. Let's talk about this in a moment, just us."
Then keep going calmly, and meet privately the same day with another adult aware.

DERBY BONUS QUESTIONS (READ ALOUD BY THE FACILITATOR; 2 POINTS EACH)

1. What is the "own door" rule? (Do not use the link or number in the message. Open the app yourself, call a known number, or ask in person.)
2. Name the four things SPOT stands for. (Secrets asked, Pressure, Offer too good, Trick to move you.)
3. What do we say about a false alarm? (It is fine and welcome.)

4. If a student clicked on a trick and then told you, what do you call them?
(A hero of the day. Tell, no trouble.)
5. Why do we agree on a Family Code Word? (Voices can be copied. A code word that only the family knows lets you check.)

H9. Station Cards S1 to S4

Green paper. One set of each station. Each station is a 6-minute challenge worth up to 3 points toward the Station Passport (1 point for finishing, 1 for the best-in-room attempt, 1 for explaining the key message in your own words).

S1. PASSPHRASE PIT (STATION HOST CARD)

Key message: Length beats cleverness. Random beats clever. A long random passphrase is easy to remember and hard to guess.

Materials: Word cards W1 to W40 (below), a timer, scrap paper, the Crack-Timer Chart (below). No real passwords are ever used. Say it out loud: "These are pretend."

Steps

1. Each player draws four word cards at random without looking. Lay them in a row. That is your passphrase. Say it out loud.
2. Look at the Crack-Timer Chart. How long would a computer guessing at random take for each kind of password? Read the row aloud.
3. Now the challenge: your team builds the silliest-yet-longest passphrase from 6 cards. Say it as a team in a silly voice. (Remember: our small deck is for fun.)
4. Compare with the cards labelled "Clever" (see below). Why does the clever one lose?
5. Say the key message to the host in your own words.

Word cards W1 to W40 (print as small cards): pickle, tractor, glitter, volcano, noodle, trombone, pancake, lantern, walrus, cactus, marble, bubble, compass, jellybean, rocket, mitten, giraffe, sneaker, thunder, pretzel, sailboat, wobble, popcorn, mustard, spaghetti, kazoo, igloo, banjo, hammock, turnip, yodel, waffle, button, pirate, crayon, pudding, scooter, meteor, ukulele, zeppelin

Crack-Timer Chart (illustrative only; actual times depend on the attack and the system) [VERIFY with a current source before presenting as fact]

How these numbers were made: the worst case, in which a thief has stolen a site's password file and guesses offline at 10 billion guesses per second, trying every possibility. "Random characters" means picked at random from the 94 keyboard symbols. "Random words" means picked at random from a large 7,776-word list. Times shown are for trying every possibility; on average a thief finds it in half that.

PASSWORD TYPE	EXAMPLE (FAKE)	ROUGH TIME TO TRY EVERY POSSIBILITY
4 random characters	k7#p	Under a second

PASSWORD TYPE	EXAMPLE (FAKE)	ROUGH TIME TO TRY EVERY POSSIBILITY
8 characters, "clever" substitutions	P@ssw0rd	Instantly, because attackers try common words and swaps first
8 random characters	vT9#qL2!	About a week
4 random words	walrus-mitten-volcano-kazoo	About 4 days
5 random words	walrus-mitten-volcano-kazoo-pretzel	About 90 years
6 random words	walrus-mitten-volcano-kazoo-pretzel-lantern	Hundreds of thousands of years
12 random characters	vT9#qL2!mZ7x	Over a million years

Read the chart honestly. (1) Each extra random word multiplies the work by about 7,776, so length is what matters. (2) A password manager can make and remember long random passwords for you, so that is the best answer for most accounts. (3) A four-word passphrase is a fair minimum for everyday accounts; use five or six for your email and for a password manager. (4) Well-run sites make real guessing far slower than this chart, and most limit guesses, so these are worst-case numbers. (5) Our 40-word card deck is for fun only. Four words from 40 cards is only 2,560,000 possibilities, which a computer tries in a blink. Real passphrases come from a password manager or a big word list.

"Clever" cards (fake): Fluffy2024!, Sp0rtsFan!, Summer@123, MyDogName1

Facilitator tip: Mention password managers and two-step verification at the end. Codes sent by text message are better than nothing, but an authenticator app or a passkey is stronger (CISA: SMS or voice codes should only be a last resort; VERIFIED 2026-10-05). Never read a code to anyone who asks. Passkeys are a newer option [availability for your school's systems and the age rules of each platform].

S2. DATA DETECTIVE (STATION HOST CARD)

Key message: Small details add up. Keep the small stuff small.

Materials: Clue slips A-1 to A-8 (below), scrap paper.

Steps

1. Read the profile headline aloud: "Meet Alex (fictional), age 10. Alex posted a photo of their new puppy."
2. Reveal one clue slip at a time. After each, the team writes what they now know about Alex.
3. After all eight slips, have the team draw a "map" of what a stranger could now figure out.
4. Discuss: which one or two details were the biggest puzzle pieces? Which clue could Alex have left out without losing the fun?

5. Say the key message to the host in your own words.

Clue slips

FIELD NOTE	No. 21
A-1 The photo shows a school mascot on a sweatshirt (the Fighting Pickles). A-2 The photo shows a bus with number 14 in the background. A-3 The puppy's tag shows the name "Biscuit". A-4 A caption says "Playing at Maple Park after school!" A-5 The post is stamped with a time: 3:42 p.m., Tuesday. A-6 A comment from a cousin says "Happy birthday week, Alex! Double digits!" A-7 The house number is partly visible behind Alex: "..42". A-8 A username in the profile says "AlexBiscuit_FightingPickles".

Host answer: A stranger could guess school, neighborhood, schedule, age, pet name, and username. Which of these could Alex change? (Turn off location, crop the photo, use a username that has no school or pet name, ask a grown-up to check settings.) No real child's data is used in this station. Never use a real profile.

S3. REAL OR FAKE? SOURCE CHECK (STATION HOST CARD)

Key message: You usually cannot tell by looking. Check the source, not the pixels. [VERIFY: detection of AI-made images and voices by eye is unreliable and changes quickly. Say "usually cannot tell," not "never."]

Materials: Claim cards C1 to C8 (below), a "Check Moves" strip.

Check Moves strip: (1) Who posted it first? (2) Who else reports it, from a source I already trust? (3) Does it want me to act right now? (4) Ask a trusted adult. (5) For a voice: use the Family Code Word or call back on a known number.

Steps

1. Read one claim card. Team says "Fake," "Real," or "Check it!" (there is no "I can tell by looking" answer; if someone says it, the host asks "How do you know?").
2. For each, the team names two Check Moves they would use.
3. Say the key message to the host in your own words.

FIELD NOTE	No. 22
C1 A photo shows a famous athlete holding a cat that has six legs. It has many shares.

C2 A video shows a mayor saying something shocking. The caption: "They don't want you to see this!"

C3 A voice message from "your cousin" asks for gift cards right away.

C5 A screenshot of a "chat" between two classmates, with no way to know who made it.

C6 A headline says a snow day was declared for tomorrow. It is from a stranger's account.

C7 A friend sends a funny AI-made picture and says "AI lol."

C8 A picture of a rare animal that is "going viral" with no source.

Micro-PD Session 7 uses C1 to C6 only.

Host answers: C1 fake or edited (a six-legged cat is a clue, but the lesson is checking the source). C2 Check it (urgent, emotional, no source). C3 Check it (use code word, call back). C4 probably real (trusted source, labelled). C5 Check it (screenshots are easy to change). C6 Check with the school's official channel. C7 Real as a joke (labelled). C8 Check it.

S4. HELP LADDER FLOOR (STATION HOST CARD)

Key message: Climb the ladder until someone helps. Telling is never trouble.

Materials: A floor ladder made of three sheets of paper: FRIEND, TRUSTED ADULT, REPORT; scenario cards L1 to L6 (below); H7 blanks.

Steps

1. Draw a scenario card L1 to L6. Read it aloud.
2. Place a marker on the rung where you would start. Move up the ladder as the host adds "that adult is not helping" twists.
3. Say aloud: "Thank you for telling me. This is not your fault." (Practice it on a partner.)
4. Fill in the Trusted Adult rung with a real adult you could name on H7.
5. Say the key message to the host in your own words.

FIELD NOTE

No. 23

L1 A character named Sam's game account was taken over and is sending weird messages to friends. Sam feels embarrassed.

L2 A character named Rae gets a message from someone in a game who asks to move to a private app.

L3 A character named Eli sees a mean group chat about a classmate. Eli did not write anything.

L4 A character named Dev tells a teacher about a problem and the teacher says "I'm busy." What does Dev do next?

L5 A character named Lu is sure the problem is Lu's fault and does not want to tell. What would help?

L6 A character named Kai's best friend says "promise you won't tell" about a scary message the friend got. What does Kai do?

Host hints: L4 keep climbing until someone helps. L6 you cannot keep a secret that keeps someone unsafe; tell a trusted adult and tell the friend why.

H10. Say-It-Right Relay Cards R1 to R16

Orange paper. One set per team, shuffled. Each card is a phrase an adult might say to a child who tells them something hard. Teams sort cards into HELPFUL and NOT HELPFUL piles and then rewrite the NOT HELPFUL ones.

CARD	PHRASE
R1	"Thank you for telling me."
R2	"Why did you click on it?"
R3	"I'm so glad you came to me."
R4	"You should have known better."
R5	"I won't tell anyone, I promise."
R6	"This is not your fault."
R7	"Let me see the pictures."
R8	"I can't keep this a secret, because I want to get you help. I will tell you who I tell."
R9	"You are not in trouble."
R10	"That's nothing, you'll be fine."
R11	"Are you sure? Are you making this up?"
R12	"Tell me more."
R13	"Your parents are going to be so upset."
R14	"What would help you feel safest right now?"
R15	"I'm going to have to take your phone."
R16	"Whatever they said would happen, we can deal with it together."

Answer key: Helpful: R1, R3, R6, R8, R9, R12, R14, R16. Not helpful: R2, R4, R5, R7, R10, R11, R13, R15. (Micro-PD Session 3 uses R1 to R12 only: helpful R1, R3, R6, R8, R9, R12; not helpful R2, R4, R5, R7, R10, R11.)

Rewrite bank (examples): R2 becomes "Tell me what happened." R4 becomes "Anyone can be tricked, and you did the right thing by telling me." R5 becomes R8. R7 becomes "You do not need to show me anything. I will make sure the right people see what they need." R10 becomes "Thank you for telling me. Let's figure it out." R11 becomes "I believe you." R13 becomes "I'll help you with the next steps." R15 becomes "You are not in trouble. Let's decide together what to do about the device."

H11. Disclosure Role-Play Cards DR1 to DR7

FIELD NOTE

No. 24

SAFETY RAILS (read before you play): this is practice, not therapy.

- All cards are fictional. Do not tell a story from your own life or from a real child. If you slip into one, say "traffic light red" and stop. Nobody asks why.
- Everyone has Traffic-Light Cards: GREEN = I'm fine, keep going. YELLOW = slow down, I need a minute. RED = pause the scene right now. Anyone can show a card at any time, no explanation.
- Nobody has to take part. Observers are a full role.
- No points. No timers shown. No audience. Practice in trios, quietly, spread around the room.
- The facilitator and a counselor (or designated adult) are in the room or just outside. Use H7 to find them.
- When the scene ends, everyone says "I'm [real name], that was pretend," and shakes out their hands.

THE THREE ROLES

- Teller: reads the card, then stays in character. Does not invent graphic details. If the listener asks for more than the card says, the teller says "I don't want to say more right now."
- Listener: a teacher or staff member who practices the skills on the Observer Checklist.
- Observer: follows the Observer Checklist, notes what went well, and calls the time.

TELLER CARDS

FIELD NOTE

No. 25

DR1 · WARM-UP: THE OOPS (ages 8-11)

Character: Tyler, age 11. Opening line: "I think I messed up. I clicked a link and now my game account is doing weird things. I think I'm going to be in huge trouble."

Hidden worry: afraid the device will be taken away.

If the listener says "you are not in trouble" and offers help, relax a little. If the listener asks "why did you click," get quieter.

Listener practice: thank, no blame, "oops happens," next steps (change password from a safe device, tell a family member).

FIELD NOTE

No. 26

DR2 · K-2 (ages 5-7)

Character: Dani, age 6. Opening line: "A kid in my game said not to tell. I got a funny feeling in my tummy."

Hidden worry: does not know if it is okay to tell. Uses very short sentences.

If the listener uses big words, go quiet. If the listener says "thank you, that was brave," smile.

Listener practice: simple words, get down to their level, "you are not in trouble," do not push for details, honest next step ("I am going to get a grown-up whose job is to help"). Never promise secrecy.

FIELD NOTE

No. 27

DR3 · GRADES 3-5 (ages 8-10)

Character: Marcus, age 10. Opening line: "Someone in my game chat asked what school I go to and said it's our secret. I didn't tell them. But I'm not even supposed to be in that game."

Hidden worry: worried about getting in trouble for being in the game.

If the listener starts about rules, shut down. If the listener says "thank you, you did exactly the right thing," keep talking.

Listener practice: praise the telling over the rule, no "why were you in that game," honest limits on secrecy, tell the teller who you will tell.

FIELD NOTE

No. 28

DR4 · GRADES 6-8 (ages 11-13)

Character: Priya, age 12. Opening line: "Someone I met in a group chat keeps pressuring me to send something I don't want to send. Now they say they'll tell people lies about me if I don't."

Hidden worry: "Please don't tell my mom."

If the listener promises secrecy, accept (and the observer must flag it). If the listener says "I can't keep this a secret, but I'll tell you who I tell," ask "Who?"

Listener practice: stay calm, believe, do not ask to see anything, simple next steps in words a student can hear (stop replying, keep the messages, tell a trusted adult, report; never save, screenshot or forward any intimate image), honest about telling, check safety ("Do you feel safe right now?"), do not contact the other person. Nothing graphic is on this card. If the listener asks for details, the teller says "I don't want to say more right now."

FIELD NOTE

No. 29

DR5 · GRADES 9-12 (ages 14-18)

Character: Jordan, age 16, helper role. Opening line (after class, quiet): "A friend told me something scary that's happening to her online, and I promised I'd keep it secret. I think I should tell someone."

Hidden worry: guilt about breaking a promise.

If the listener says "I'm proud of you," relax. If the listener says "you must tell right now," get defensive.

Listener practice: thank the helper, honor the loyalty, explain that safety comes before secrets, ask for just enough to know who to call, honest steps, check on the helper's own feelings, do not ask Jordan to reveal the friend's name in a pushy way (the administrator and counselor follow policy).

FIELD NOTE

No. 30

DR6 · THE CHILD WHO CANNOT SAY IT

Character: Sam, age 8. Opening: hands over an index card with a small drawing of a tablet and the words "I need help." Sam says nothing else.

Hidden worry: does not have the words.

If the listener waits quietly and offers choices ("you can draw it, write it, or show me who you want to tell"), Sam nods. If the listener asks many questions, Sam looks away.

Listener practice: patience, silence, offer alternatives (note, drawing, trusted adult they choose, counselor), do not force words, say "you did a brave thing."

FIELD NOTE

No. 31

DR7 · THE BLURT IN CLASS

Character: Alex, age 13. In the middle of a pretend lesson, Alex says out loud: "That happened to me!" The observer plays two classmates who whisper "what happened?" and "who is it?"

Listener practice (two parts): Part 1 (60 seconds, in front of the class): thank Alex briefly, say "let's talk about this in a moment, just us," and keep the class calm and moving. Do not let classmates ask questions. Part 2 (3 minutes, privately): receive Alex with the First 10 Minutes card, door open or glass window, another adult aware, same-day follow-up.

TRAFFIC-LIGHT CARDS (PRINT 3 PER PERSON, RED, YELLOW, GREEN)

FIELD NOTE	No. 32
GREEN I'm fine, keep going. YELLOW Slow down, I need a minute. RED Pause the scene now. No explanation needed.

H12. Micro-Teach Cards MT1 to MT12 and Feedback Sheet

Yellow paper. Each card is a 5-minute "speed" version of a 15-minute Hackles lesson (Hook 1, Activity 2:30, Takeaway 1:30). The full lesson, with every script and exit ticket, is in the band's Teacher Guide. These cards intentionally avoid the sensitive lessons listed in the Counselor Heads-Up and Opt-Out Toolkit: sensitive lessons are never micro-taught in a workshop. Teams may use any card; peers play students.

HOW A SPEED-TEACH WORKS

Time versions: the Half-Day uses the full 5 minutes below. The 90-Minute Version uses 3 minutes (Hook 30 seconds, Activity 1:45, Takeaway 45 seconds). Micro-PD Session 8 uses 90 seconds (the Hook plus the start of the Activity).

1. Hook (1 min). Say the hook line from the card in a voice that wakes the room up.
2. Activity (2 min 30 s). Run the one-sentence activity. Everyone on their feet or hands busy.
3. Takeaway (1 min 30 s). Say the takeaway line, then lead the Hackles-up hand signal and "Pause. Check. Tell."
4. Audience plays students (silly is fine; nobody plays a real child's real experience). Feedback follows on the Feedback Sheet.

FIELD NOTE	No. 33
MT1 · K-2, Lesson 2 "Secret Passwords" Hook: "I have a secret that only I know. It's my silly three-word password. Shhh! (Whisper a silly pretend one: 'dancing purple pickle.') Do you have one?" Activity: Each "student" draws a picture card from three bags (animal, food, action) and makes a pretend password. Say it aloud once, whisper it once, then put it in a paper lock. Pretend only. Takeaway: "Passwords are private. We only share them with a grown-up who helps. Hackles up? Pause. Check. Tell."

FIELD NOTE

No. 34

MT2 · K-2, Lesson 3 "Pause and Ask"

Hook: "Uh-oh. A shiny box just popped up on my screen! It says I WON!"

Activity: Pop-Up Parade. You hold up a paper pop-up. Everyone shows a flat Pause Palm and says "Pause and ask!" Then you hold up a grown-up cutout and everyone says "I'll ask!"

Takeaway: "When something pops up, I pause and ask a grown-up. Telling is never trouble."

FIELD NOTE

No. 35

MT3 · K-2, Lesson 4 "The Oops Button"

Hook: "Oops! I tapped something yucky by mistake. Do I hide? Do I tell?"

Activity: Press the Oops Button. Everyone presses a big red paper button, steps on a three-step floor ladder (Stop, Tell, It's okay), and says "I'll tell."

Takeaway: "Oops happens. Tell, no trouble. You are not in trouble when you tell."

FIELD NOTE

No. 36

MT4 · K-2, Lesson 8 "Real or Pretend?"

Hook: "Is this a real photo or a pretend picture a computer made? (Hold up two safe, teacher-made pictures.)"

Activity: Real or Pretend Parade. "Students" walk to the REAL or PRETEND sign and explain how they decided. Then say: "Sometimes even grown-ups cannot tell. When we are not sure, we ask."

Takeaway: "If I am not sure, I ask a grown-up to help me check."

FIELD NOTE

No. 37

MT5 · GRADES 3-5, Lesson 2 "Passphrase Lab"

Hook: "A computer is trying to guess my password. How long do you think it will take? (Take guesses.)"

Activity: Crack-Timer Lab (speed round). Teams draw a card with a fake password (4 characters, 8 characters, passphrase). Look up the time on the Crack-Timer Chart (H9, S1) and announce it. Build the strongest four-word passphrase.

Takeaway: "Length beats cleverness. More random words beat a clever short password. Never use a real password in a game. Hackles up? Pause. Check. Tell."

FIELD NOTE

No. 38

MT6 · GRADES 3-5, Lesson 3 "Scam Spotters"

Hook: "Quick! Which of these messages is real? You have ten seconds!" (Flash two cards at once.)

Activity: The Great Scam Sort (speed round). Teams sort 6 cards into SCAM, REAL, and PAUSE-AND-ASK, and circle the SPOT clue (Secrets, Pressure, Offer too good, Trick to move you).

Takeaway: "Urgent and secret? Pause. Even one SPOT sign means check."

FIELD NOTE

No. 39

MT7 · GRADES 3-5, Lesson 5 "Data Detective"

Hook: "I'm going to show you a photo of a fictional kid named Alex. How much can I learn about Alex?"

Activity: Crack the Case (speed round). Reveal four clue slips from H9 (S2). Teams piece together what a stranger could guess. Choose one thing Alex could change.

Takeaway: "Small details add up. Keep the small stuff small."

FIELD NOTE

No. 40

MT8 · GRADES 6-8, Lesson 3 "Phish Lab"

Hook: "A message says 'Verify your account in 10 minutes or lose your game.' Raise your hand if you have ever seen one like it. (Keep it light.)"

Activity: Hand each team a fake DM (D4, D5, D6, D14). Teams mark which FLAGS they see: Fast, Login ask, Amazing offer, Gotta keep it secret, Strange sender. Teams say what they will do first.

Takeaway: "Pause before you click. Check with FLAGS. Tell when you are not sure. If you clicked, it is never your fault; tell someone and fix it."

FIELD NOTE

No. 41

MT9 · GRADES 6-8, Lesson 2 "Account Defense"

Hook: "Two doors. One has a rusty lock and a sticky note with the key. One has a strong lock and a second lock. Which would you pick?"

Activity: Teams rank a pretend list (reused password, long unique passphrase, two-step verification, sharing a password with a friend, a password manager) from weakest to strongest and state the one thing they would do tonight.

Takeaway: "Unique password plus two-step. Do the thing that takes the fewest minutes and protects the most."

FIELD NOTENo. 42

MT10 · GRADES 9-12, Lesson 2 "Credentials and Passkeys"
Hook: "When was the last time you counted how many accounts would be hurt if one password leaked?"
Activity: Passphrase Builder and Recovery Map. Each person builds a four-word pretend passphrase, then draws a quick map: which account recovers which account. The email account is in the center. Protect it first.
Takeaway: "Your email is the master key. Protect it the most. Passkeys and two-step add protection [availability varies by service]."

FIELD NOTENo. 43

MT11 · GRADES 9-12, Lesson 3 "Social Engineering Case Lab"
Hook: "A call comes in. 'This is IT. Your account has been hacked. Read me the code we just texted.' What do you do?"
Activity: Case Lab. Teams get a fictional case and mark the pressure tools (authority, urgency, fear, flattery, secrecy). They write the sentence they would say: "I will confirm this a different way."
Takeaway: "Hackles up? Name the pressure. Pause. Check a different way. Tell."

FIELD NOTENo. 44

MT12 · GRADES 9-12, Lesson 6 "Synthetic Media and Truth"
Hook: "A clip is spreading of a public figure saying something wild. It looks real. It sounds real. What now?"
Activity: Verify Lab. Teams get claim cards (C2, C3, C8 from S3). They list three Check Moves each (who first posted, who else reports it, reverse search, ask someone) and rate confidence: low, medium, high.
Takeaway: "Check the source, not the pixels. 'I do not know yet' is an honest answer."
